Life can be lonely for Walter Lavender. Struggling with a communication disorder that renders him speechless, his refuge is his mother's unusual New York bakery which serves up its sweet treats with an extra sprinkling of magic. When the mysterious Book at the heart of the bakery's charm and success vanishes and the landlord threatens closure, it is up to Walter to find the Book and save the shop. Thankfully, Walter has a special ability to find lost things, an affinity for things that have gone astray, that starts him on a quest all over New York City with Milton, his overweight Labrador, beside him. Down into the subway and soaring over Central Park, his search will introduce him to some extraordinary people and, along the way, help him discover his voice and learn what it truly means to be found.
